Pronounced Hopeless.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote:

"Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally settled in consumption. Four doctors gave me my saying. I could live but a short time. Gave myself up to my Saviour. Determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent one above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, cough and cold. I gave it a trial, took it in eight bottles; it has cured me and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman. Trial bottles free at W. S. Lloyd's drug store, regular size, 50 cents and $1 per bottle."

THE ADVOCATE.

Progress Among the New Things in Tobacco Culture.

I wish to call attention to what is known as "Leaf Curling," that is, beginning at the bottom and gathering the good leaves, from two to four at a time, as they mature and are ready for curing.

Tobacco should always be planted as early as possible, and on quick, rich soil, with plenty of vegetable mould and manure of some kind in the land. With a favorable season you can begin to gather the leaves in from sixty to seventy days. This can be done in baskets prepared for the purpose, and with care not to bruise them, they are carried to the house and then taken from the baskets and hung on sticks or strings. By far the best device that I know of being the Snow Slide, indeed, I do not see how things can be improved on. In a week or two these same plants will be ready for another gathering of leaves, and so on to the end of the season.

Now, I do not speak of this matter from hearsay or reading, but from actual growing experience. After a thorough trial of the work of the past curing season I unhesitatingly pronounce it the best method I have ever seen, tried or heard of for curing tobacco. It cures better and more quickly. You can begin by the 15th of July to harvest your crop, and instead of having to wait for a very long time, as is usual, you have almost the entire summer for it. You will make more pounds to the acre than you can possibly do by the old process. You will not decrease the weight of the leaf. You will reduce the risk of loss from frost to a minimum. You will give employment to a class of labor heretofore unemployed.

Without doubt this is a departure from old methods in the line of progress; it is the great change, the new process that will give us a much higher grade of tobacco. I cannot too strongly urge my brother planters not to pass it by, but to look into it, study it, and you will adopt it. You can not afford to be left by all other sections in the improvements that are taking place in the varieties, the culture, and the methods of handling and curing this staple crop.—(Edmond R. Coche in Western Tobacco Journal.)

The above is from a man who raised 1500 lbs. per acre on ten acres and realized $55 per hundred for it.

The Farmers' Alliance of the second Congressional district met a day or two ago at Henderson to complete its district organization. The meeting was held at Mayfield. Politics of course came up, and the result of the deliberations on that subject is given in the Owensboro Messenger.

The matter of political reform was discussed at some length, but, though some of the delegates favored it, it was decided to leave the matter drop, and after the first mention of it nothing more was said about it by anybody. The legislative question was discussed at more length, and there more in favor of taking action on it than there were of those who wanted to interfere in the race for State office. The general idea of the side was to adopt resolutions such as have been adopted in some of the sub-unions declaring that no Alliance man should support any man for office who should submit his claims to either of the old parties. "As has so frequently been the case," the non-political element prevailed, and nothing was done in this direction.

Those who are frequent sufferers from headache should keep on hand the following mixture: Menthol, one drachm; alcohol, eight drachms. In many instances if this is applied freely to the aching parts the relief will be immediate.

"Oh," cried little Charlie, "what a beautiful bed that bed will be."

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it before any prescription is given to a mother."—D. A. Jones, M.D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

"The use of Castoria is so universal and so agreeable to children that it is a source of surprise to me that it is not more generally known. I have seen the intelligent mother who has used Castoria with great success."—Cassius M. Perry, D.D., New York City.

Agricultural Notes.

Germany is credited with over seven hundred best-sugar factories.

Every year more farmers believe that moderate weights in pork pay best.

The Spring exhibition of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society was held in Boston March 31 to April 3, instead of March 25 to 27, as first announced.

Campfire trees in Florida have evolved a prophecy to the effect that the camphor-producing industry will prove important in that State at no late day. A company having for its avowed purpose the cultivation of the rami plant and the preparation of its fibre for market, has been incorporated in California under the name of the California Rami Company.

Neither farmer nor householder with a small garden spot should moderate the value of the garden produce, especially when, by seasonal attention these can be rendered available for early use. In the Northern and Central States some forcing process must be resorted to, such as the use of a hot-bed or green-house in which plants can be greatly advanced by the time it is safe to transplant in the open ground. Those who cannot avail themselves of the means mentioned may gain the same results from very simple and inexpensive methods. For instance, a sufficient number of plants of many varieties can be forced several weeks by having the seed in boxes placed indoors where the light has free access, as in kitchen or sitting-room windows. Or, when there is a furnace in one's cellar, the south and east windows therein afford a good place for the boxes, which ought to be filled with soil. The use of certain spring weather, with its unexpected and oftentimes late frosts, emphasize the importance of some of the forcing methods by which plants of our choicest vegetables can be obtained in advance of the natural season. As many of the plants are all the more vigorous for transplanting, the forcing plan affords a two-fold benefit.

Our Very Best People

A simple means of changing the air of sickrooms is to open a window at the top, and opening the door, move it back and forward rapidly, so as to insure a current of fresh air from the window.

Clothes—Ma, what does you mean when you say Smith died out to Brown on a foul? How could he?

Budge—Oh, that's when a fellow dies you know; but girls can't understand those things.

Dodo—Well, but why do you give it such very queer names.

Budge—Gracious! I don't know, except that you can't call it anything else.—[Harper's Young People.]

Mr. Ingall's opinion that we do not need coast defenses ought to count for something, coming as it does from a man who is lying so far outside the breastworks.

The California method of drying prunes produces a lighter colored fruit than that dried by the French method, but gives a more highly flavored product. The natural color is better preserved. Both systems are used in this State; a prune which cannot be distinguished from the French article be made. The steam-heat process and cooked-fruit flavor, does not seem to the best growers, desirable, nor demanded by the public. W. H. Aiken, of Wrights, one of the best prune-growers of the State, says that the fruit should be ripe enough to fall easily. Dip into boiling mixture of one pound lye to ten gallons of water, and so scald and crack the skins. Dip in cold water and put on trays in the sun. When dry but not hard, put in covered bins to "sweat." Dip for two minutes in boiling water; dry and pack for market. He adds, "The California sun-dried prune is delicious when stewed, while the French, being already cooked, tastes well before stewing, but is more insipid afterwards." Prunes are usually graded by a machine before they are dried. The finishing, or "gloss" varies with different growers. Some expose to steam, some, as Mr. Aiken, dip in hot water. Some use hot-sugar syrup, some dip in boiled preservative. The most prevalent practice, however, is to use hot water, with pure glycerine, one pound to twenty gallons, for a "gloss." In the California methods the saving of labor is manifest. The yield of prunes per acre is said to be larger here than in France, and the crop is handled on the whole more cheaply.—[Am. Garden.]

"GOD HELP THE SURPLUS."

It will take all the gold and silver produced in the world for four years to pay the appropriations made by the Billion Dollar Congress.

All the wages of all the workers in every protected American industry for three years.

All the wages of all the workers in 1,005 cotton mills for twenty years.

All the wages paid in 1,900 woolen mills for forty years.

All the wages paid in all the glass industries for 110 years.

Our total wheat crop for 1890 will only pay one-third of it.

Our total corn crop for 1890 will only pay two-thirds of it.

"God help the surplus!" It is God help the workman.—[New York World.]

The First Symptoms of Death. Tired feeling, dull headache, pain in various parts of the body, sinking at the pit of the stomach, loss of appetite, feverishness, pimples or sores, are all positive evidences of poisoned blood. No matter how it became poisoned it must be purified to avoid death. Dr. Acker's English Blood Elixir has never failed to remove scrofulous or syphilitic poison. Sold under positive guarantee. T. G. JULIAN.

Johnny—Ma, what does the word "civil" mean?

Mamma—It means gentle and polite.

Johnny—That's what I thought. I've just been reading a book on what's called the civil war. It says there were more men killed in that war than in any other. Now, I'd like to know where the civil part comes in.—[Philadelphia Times.]

After eating very heartily, or of too rich foods, and the "stomach sour," or there are feelings of heaviness, "floating" or the like, sip a glass of water as hot as can be swallowed without scalding. This will stimulate digestion and relieve the annoying symptoms.—[Boston Journal of Health.]

Mamma—Robbie, does your car ache?

Robert—No, mamma.

Mamma—Then why do you put cotton in it?

Robert—Well, mamma, you know you keep on telling me that I learn so little, because what goes in at one ear comes out at the other. So I've plugged the other up.—[Harper's Young People.]

A BIG BLUFF.

The Italian Minister Recalled.

On Tuesday the State Department at Washington were a little startled
by the sudden announcement of Baron Fava, the Italian Minister to this country, that he had received instructions from the officials of his government to leave Washington and that the business of the Legation was in charge of the Marquis Imperiali.
In a letter of March 31 to Secretary
Blaine, Baron Fava stated:

"By my two notes of the 15th and 18th insts., I had the honor to call your Excellency's serious attention to the occurrences of exceptional gravity which took place at New Orleans on the 14th, whereby four subjects to the King of Italy, who were confined in the prison of that city, were massacred by the crowd, under the leadership of two American citizens."

"After having formally protested against the unjustified conduct of the local authorities, which were evidently recent to all their duties on that occasion, I reserved to the Government of His Majesty the right to demand such satisfaction as it might think proper. . . . The reparation demanded by the Government of the King, as I have had the honor to inform you in my interviews held during the last few days, were the least of the following points:

"First—The official assurance by the Federal Government that the guilty
parties should be brought to justice.
"Second—The recognition, in principle, that an indemnity is due to the
relatives of the victims.
"Your Excellency was pleased to declare to me that, as the Federal Government did not think it could take this view of the case, it declined to take the two essential demands into consideration. Under these circumstances, the Government of His Majesty, considering that the legiti-mate action of the King's Minister at Washington becomes ineffectual, has ordered me to take my leave."

Secretary Blaine replied to the Marquis Imperiali and in his letter he says:

"I beg to express the sincere regret with which the Government of the United States receives the intelligence of Baron Fava's speedy departure from the Capital. Though he has more than once intimated this purpose, the Government of the United States has been unable to see adequate reasons for such a step.

"The cause of his surrendering his diplomatic relations with this Government is thus given in his note:
"The reparation demanded by the Government of the King, as I have had the honor to inform you in my interviews held during the last few days, were the least of the following points:

"First—The official assurance by the Federal Government that the guilty
parties should be brought to justice.
"Second—The recognition, in principle, that an indemnity is due to the
relatives of the victims."

"The first demand, thus stated by Baron Fava, is slightly changed in phrase from that employed by him in his many verbal reports, based on a message from the Marquis Radini,

HORSE AND TRACK.

Daisy Rolfs, sister to Nelson, 2:10, will be bred to Prince Regent, 2:10.
C. J. Hamlin has announced that Ed. Geers will drive his horses this year.

The horse for any purpose must have a good frame of bone and muscle.

Nearly $800,000 has already been paid for trotters this year in Kentucky.

There will be more horses in training at the Lexington fair grounds this season than ever before.

Daylight, 2:10, to be handled by Bud Doble this year, is looked by a horseman for a mile in 2:11.

The number of private sales of trotting stock at Lexington and vicinity,
is said to be unprecedented.

Jack and Palo Alto, free-for-all rivals last year, retired at the close of the season with like records, 2:12.
Doble, Splan, McHenry, Geers and Blair, are the only men that have ridden a mile below 2:10 in a season.

There is a filly at Palo Alto by Electioneer, out of the pacing mare Lucy, that promises to step low in the teens. She is one of the kind that is not for sale at any price.

The first foal at the Hobart ranch
this year is by Stamboul, 2:11, out of Prospect Maid, 2:23, the $15,000 daughter of George Wilkes that was taken to California a few years ago.

James Miller Sunnyside Stock
Farm, Paris, Ky., has sold to D. H.
Moore, Athens, O., the bay stallion Tilford, by Bourbon Wilkes, dam by John Dillard, Jr. He is seven years old. Price $10,000.

Hark Comstock says that Axtell's three-year-old record of 2:12, is really true and expresses more positive confidence in the accuracy of the eight-year-old records of Stamboul,
2:11, and Nelson, 2:10.

Andrew J. Coleman, of Lexington, Ky., has sold to John E. Madden, of the same city, the three-year-old filly
Cleo, by Gambetta, dam by Macey's Hambletonian, for $5,000. She holds the world's two-year-old record over a half-mile track.

G. Conkling, Glen Falls, N. Y., has sold a New York Trotter, the bay stallion George Stanford, five years old, by Electioneer, dam Barnes by Hambletonian. He has a three-year-old record of 2:23. Reported price $15,000.

This season will probably witness the building of more tracks than ever before constructed in a single year. From all over the country we receive communications from associations intending to begin work as soon as the weather permits in the spring.

An effort will be made to bring
Margaret S., Nancy Hanks, Alabama, Navidad, and other crack five-year-
olds together in a five-year-old stake
at the Northwestern State Fair.

Trotting Horse Breeders' annual meeting in Chicago next August.

Allerton, 2:13, and Axtell, 2:13, are the two fastest stallions ever bred by the same breeder. Jay-Bee-Sue, 2:10, and Maud S., 2:08, the fastest pair ever raised, were bred at the same farm. Sunset, 2:10, and Palo Alto, 2:12, are the fastest mare and stallion ever raised by one breeder.

W. T. Withers, Fairview Farm,
Lexington, has sold to F. E. Freeman,
Paducah, O., a foal in utero, for $2,000.
The foal is by Red Wilkes, dam Bony
Belle by Almont; second dam Alice Drake (dam of Norman Medium, 2:20, and Alice Addison, 2:28) by Alexander's Norman; third dam by Pilot Jr.

This is the time of year to breed
mares, beyond a doubt; for the colts dropped in January or February stands a good chance to win over the colts that is foaled in May, by just as many months as the interval between the dates named, says an exchange.

If a two-year-old has a right to defeat
a yearling, so has a nineteen-months-old colt just as much advantage over a fourteen-months-old colt. Hence, we repeat, this is the time of year to cast about as to how and where you will breed your mares.

Eleven trotting sires are standing for public service in Germany, of which six were bred in America.
Three are standing at Berlin West End, one at Berlin Weissensee and one at Mariahilf. The six named are Podark, Hazelwood, Macey's Hambletonian, Lump and Francis's Alexander at Mariahilf. France's Alexander beat all the best horses of his day, including Hankins, Santa Claus, Bob McGreggor
and half a dozen others equally good.

There are some seven or eight Orloff (Russian) trotting stallions standing for hire in and about Berlin, the daughters of which will be bred to these American stallions.

All law-abiding foreigners of whatever nationality, who come to our shores for the purpose of finding a home will receive a hearty welcome from our people. Infamous outrages and murders are committed every day, and no one is safe from law and order, whether followers of John Most or members of the Mafia, will receive a very different kind of treatment, of that be assured.

Some of the New York papers are quoting prominent Italians of that city as expressing the belief that in case of trouble between the United States and Italy the naturalized Italian residents of their country would side with their native land and against the country of their adoption. If this be true then it is well that our people should know it, and the sooner we become aware what status these hot-blooded, quick-grown citizens are to occupy, the better. If this Italian incident shall lead to a revision of our naturalization laws then Hennessy will not have died in vain.

EDITOR ADVOCATE: I received by mail this morning a clipping from the Sentinel-Democrat of March 27th, to which I wish to reply, and only ask a short space in your columns for that purpose. I have all along refrained from replying to the cowardly attacks made upon me by that little infamous sheet, but, being aware of the fact that the attacks on me are aimed at the organization I represent, prompts this reply. It is a source of astonishment to me to know that my course has met the approval of the Brotherhood wherever I have been, and the political papers of both parties have treated me with the greatest respect, but it seems the S.-D. has stooped to the lowest depths of blackguarding and cowardice. I think I know my duty and how to perform it and I know my rights and how to defend them. Certainly the S.-D. should receive the condemnation it so richly deserves.

Immediate steps will be taken to hunt up the afflicted Chinese and send them to China. It is stated that within the past year the scourge has made great headway in the Pacific Province, and it has reached a point that will imperil the settlement of British Columbia, unless the Government take immediate steps to wipe it out.

The Farmers' Alliance and the Anti-Bargaining Trust have made peace upon a basis of reduced prices for bagging, and the jute article will again come into use in the cotton regions of the South.

Eight or ten years ago a peddler named James Wheeler was killed in "Haran county, back of Pine mountain. Two ministers of the gospel are serving on the grand jury in Harlan county, although ministers have a right to claim exemption from jury service. The Harlan Bulletin says: "Well, then, remarked John, 'I tell you it was just because everybody kept their ain doctored speech'—which was a polite way of saying 'Mind your own business.'—Gentleman's Magazine.

March winds have blown against the windows, and the month will go on record as having been a rattler.

A TRAVELED MAN.

An Elevator Man Computes His Travel in Time and Distance.

"Yes," said the old gray haired gentleman who runs up and down the elevator shaft in the big Equitable building, "I've been a great traveler in my day, and I've seen some strange sights and got used to the ups and downs—that old joke of my business. I've been driving elevators for about ten years. Besides I got my position here in the Equitable building as conductor of one of the elevators I used to be in the business in the west, and in all parts of the country, and all the buildings have been great big piles. I suppose they have averaged 200 feet in height."

"Now, says I to myself the other day, 'Michael, sit down and calculate how much of a traveler you've been in the past ten years and I'm sure you'll be surprised.' So I sat down and got the oldest lad to do the figuring. He's a great boy at figuring. For the past ten years I've averaged, and he's figured to live on his salary like a good boy."

"So I says, 'I've been up and down 200 feet twice in a minute. That is, I have traveled 400 feet every minute. Every hour I have traveled 24,000 feet. That makes in a day of ten hours, 240,000 feet a week that makes 1,440,000 feet. In a year of fifty-two weeks that makes 74,880,000 feet.' My kid says there are 1,760 yards to a mile. So I'll reduce the foot to yards to that divide the one into the other, nearly 14,182 miles. Consequently, hence I've traveled 141,820 miles in the last ten years. Though I've never been around the earth, they say it is only 25,000 miles around from New York to New York, that is, if I went in a circle. So you see I've been around the earth almost six times. But I've still 8,180 miles to cover yet. I'll finish the sixth circuit in 107,976 minutes, or 1,799 hours and 36 minutes. That is, I'll finish it in 179 days, 2 hours and 36 minutes."—New York Evening Sun.

THE DEATH PLANT.

There has been discovered in the forests of India a strange plant which possesses to a very high degree astonishing magnetic powers, and which is a great source of annoyance to forestmen and tourists. It has been named the Pilotta de electrica. The hand which breaks a leaf from this plant receives immediately a shock equal to that which is produced by an induction coil. At a distance of six yards a magnetic needle is affected by it, and wire telegraph lines are rendered inoperative by its singular influence varies with the hour of the day. All powerful about the globe in the night. At last it is announced that its intensity augmented to striking proportions.

It remains there without shelter it will, even if one should shelter it with a leaf. No shock is felt at the time. It is the leaves, and the needle is unshaken while it. It never by any chance sees birds, or insects, or even man, in fact, that they will find certain death. It is also important to remark that where it grows none of the metallic metals are found—neither iron, cobalt nor nickel—an undeniable proof that the electric force belongs exclusively to the plant.

Twenty-five Serious Accidents. John N. Hutchinson, of Covington, seems to be death proof. From his strange experience he was not born to be killed. He has met with no less than twenty-five accidents in the last ten years. At the Sullivan gas pits in Indiana in 1874 there were thirteen men killed. He was a green hand and escaped. He fell from the roof of St. Mary's school house while it was being erected. He dropped a distance of seventy-five feet and was badly injured. He was also hurt at the fruit house, and fell from a church in West Covington.

While walking on a railroad track with two other men a train came along and killed his companions. He was stealing a ride with two other tramps in Indiana. The train jumped the track and the two tramps were killed. He was hurt at the Dasher works and a dozen other places. Both of his arms have been broken. His right fractured, his head crushed, his ribs broken, and yet today he is a pretty good man.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

SYMPATHY FROM A STRANGER.

They tell a story of Hon. Bill Campbell's first visit to Washington. Campbell was walking up Pennsylvania avenue when a stranger stopped him, shook hands with him and spoke a few words of sympathy.

"But, really, I—I do not know you, sir," said Campbell.

"I know that," answered the stranger, "but I can tell by the looks of you that you're in some sort of serious trouble, and I thought it best to encourage and cheer you to know that I sympathized with you."—Eugene Flint in Chicago News.

"Do you know why the streets of Jerusalem were kept so clean?" asked an old Scotch bearded of his pastor. The minister confessed himself unable to answer this query. "Well, then," remarked John, "I tell you it was just because everybody kept their ain doctored speech"—which was a polite way of saying "Mind your own business."—Gentleman's Magazine.

NO REJOICING.

"Did you cry the day Ethel died?" "No, I didn't cry once."—Judge.

Dolan Denmark!

Brown; foaled May 11, 1888; 15 hands and 2½ inches high; extra heavy mane and tail; bred by Thos. Carr, Lexington, Ky.

Sired by Pat Dolan's great Washington, of Fayette county; 1st dam by Trojan; 2d dam by Washington Denmark. Washington, the sire of Dolan Denmark, is one of the most noted, both for siring extra fine saddle horses as well as himself taking premiums wherever shown. Washington has taken many important premiums at all the prominent fairs in Kentucky.

Washington is by Cromwell; his dam is by the noted Halcom Cornwall; is by Washington Denmark; his dam is by John Dillard noted for siring fine saddle horses as well as the dams of some of the fastest trotters; next dam by the noted thoroughbred race horse, Grey Eagle. Trojan, the sire of the dam of Dolan Denmark, was an extra fine high-styled horse by Brigholi; he by Manbrine Chief; 1st dam by Tom Crowder, by Brown Pilot, the sire of Pilot, Jr., the sire of the dams of Jay Eye, 2:10, and Maud S, 2:08. Washington Denmark, the double grand sire of Dolan Denmark, is one of the most noted of all the great Denmark family.

By Gates' Denmark; (this horse not only sired fine saddle horses, but sired pacers with records better than 2:25); he by the great Denmark race horse, Blind Billy. Dolan Denmark is wonderful in the perfection of his gait and has a splendid running walk, the kind business men look for. He will be permitted to serve mares during 1891 at my farm at Sideview, Montgomery county, Ky.

AT $15.00 TO INSURE A LIVING COLT.

Mares from a distance kept at 5 cents a day. Care will be taken to prevent accidents and escapes, but will not be responsible should any occur.

Dolan Denmark took the blue ribbon in his two-year-old form at Winchester and the 2d premium at Lexington, Ky., where his brother took the 1st premium with ten or twelve other horses in the ring. Dolan Denmark stands lower than any other horse with his breeding and qualities in Kentucky, and he is as high bred as any saddle horse in Kentucky and I fear no successful contradiction.

A lien will be retained against all colts and will be enforced for the season money which is due when the colt is foaled alive.

ENGLISH ANDERSON.

THE ADVOCATE.

Chief Justice Shaw.

Lemuel Shaw, who was for thirty years chief justice of the supreme court of Massachusetts, was a notable figure in that commonwealth from 1830 till 1860. He was short and stout in stature, with hardly any neck at all, so that his large head seemed to be placed almost directly upon his body and sunk in his neckerchief. He had an abundant supply of hair (inclined to recede) which had a tendency to curl. His forehead was somewhat low, but square and strong and his stout ensemble striking to a degree, so that people would involuntarily turn around and look at him as he passed them in the street. He could be seen any Sunday morning for years, walking down Winter street, just before church time, on his way to Trinity, which was in those days in summer street, near the head. His demeanor in the street was remarkably modest and unassuming, and there was nothing in his appearance suggestive of the fact that he was the greatest master of jurisprudence, next to Chief Justice Theophilus Parsons (and scarcely his inferior) that Massachusetts ever had. Indeed, everybody seemed to look upon him as a sort of bulwark of the State, and to feel safer that he was its Chief Justice, though he himself never appeared to be conscious of it. He was of great simplicity of nature, and so thoroughly pure, honest and conscientious, that everybody regarded him with respect approaching to reverence. Let me give an illustration.

A lawyer of considerable distinction, whose office was quite near the Court House, once told the writer that one very hot summer afternoon he came into his office reeking with perspiration, and all out of breath, from "stumping" up the stairs to ask him if he was acquainted with a certain Mr.

It seemed that this individual had placidly strayed into the lobby in the Court House, and asked the Chief Justice to acknowledge a deed for him, which any ordinary Justice of the Peace (and almost every lawyer in the city) might have done for him. The form is (as every lawyer knows) "Personally appeared—before me," etc. The Chief didn't know the man, and instead of telling him that he ought not to have come into the lobby, invading his privacy and interrupting him in the midst of important affairs, and bidding him to go home to seek a Justice of the Peace elsewhere, or of taking his statement that he was the person he said was, and taking the acknowledgment at once, to get rid of him, he asked him for the name of some lawyer near by who knew him, and upon his giving that of a certain Mr. Hale, he came in—the great head to inquire of him if what he said was true, and it proving to be so, he went back to the lobby, where the man had waited all the while, and took the acknowledgment for him as he had desired, apparently entirely unconscious that he was doing anything beneath the dignity of the Chief Justice of Massachusetts. It has always seemed to the writer that this whole procedure was almost worthy of Sir Matthew Hale himself, and indeed quite like that great magistrate, that the Chief, with all his purity and childlike simplicity of character, had his peculiarities, and some of them were very queer ones—all based, however, upon great honesty of purpose. The whole bar knows what they were.

At the beginning of the term, for instance, he would always call the docket, and whispering something to the lawyer next to him, when the Chief stopped and said in these exact words: "Mr. Fiske, sit down!" It was not a suggestion, a request even, but a command. Everybody smiled and uttered, but the chief went on calling the docket. Mr. F. F. F. finding a seat somewhere in the crowd, and I am very confident that he had the slightest idea that he said or did anything to occasion a smile, and, among the younger members of the bar, the fitter. At times he was rough, especially so to Choate, who was constantly obliged to ask for continuances, postponements, &c., as oftentimes, he would have cases in order for trial in two or three different courts. In a certain case where Choate was going out to Chicago, the jury in one of his tortious or impudently and almost furious eloquence, he stopped him abruptly and told him he could talk to the jury just so long (stating the exact amount of time), and no longer. It seemed so suspicious and so suspicious, and the writer, who was present and who had occasion to see Choate during the noon adjournment, remarked upon it to him and ventured to ask him why he, an advocate of his standing, submitted to such a thing from the Chief. Choate merely put up with his mild, charming and quasi comical looks and said: "Oh, he is a trifle harsh sometimes, but he is an excellent magistrate." The writer has always remembered the remark from his using the word "magistrate" instead of "Judge." But then Choate was always so complaisant! There were lawyers, however, who could say if need there were (in a polite respectful way) pretty brisk and lively things to the Chief. And the writer heard Choate once "chide" of the Chief, "I beg, entreat, demand of your honor," were his words, some right for his client he was contending for, with an eye, a fire, a passion, an action worthy of the Elder Booth himself, and he reminded me of him. And the Chief yielded by modifying his ruling, not, probably, because he was overcome by Choate's manner, though plainly moved by it, and furious declamation, but because he thought it was right to do so. His whole purpose seemed to be always seeking for the right, in a thousand and one little as well as great things. Indeed, he was as conscientious embodied, if ever a man was. His faults, of which everybody has some, were patent on the surface and not of the heart.—(Boston Journal.)

Plenty of that Sort of Hero...

A horse attached to a buggy came running down Grand River Avenue the other day, licker-out, and a postillion rushed out, seizing the trailing lines, and after being flung down and dragged through the mud a hundred feet he brought the animal to a post, picked up the whip and cushions, and had just got everything in shipshape when a fat man, walking very leisurely and smoking a cigar, came along and took possession.

"So it was your horse?" asked the mud-covered rescuer.

"Yes—my horse. Got away from my house on Fourth Avenue."

"And—"

"Oh, I wasn't worried any. Knew that somebody would stop him sooner or later. There's some of that sort always around, you know!"

And as he drove off without another word the philanthropist took of his overcoat, gazed at the ruin wrought, and added to the crowd which collected.

"I own right up, gentlemen. I'm from Footpath to the most direct route!"—Detroit Free Press.

Cleaning Windows.

Two servants employed in adjoining houses were talking recently, about their methods of cleaning windows. The one whose windows always looked the brightest, said she selected a dull day for the work, or a day when the sun was not shining on them, because when the sun shines it causes them to be dry-freaked, no matter how much one rubs. The painter's hand is the best article for this purpose, then wash all the woodwork before the glass is touched. To cleanse the glass simply use warm water diluted with ammonia; don't use soap. A small stick will get the dust out of the corners, then wipe with a piece of cloth—do not use linen as the lint sticks to the glass. The best way to polish is with tissue paper or newspaper. To clean windows in this way takes much less time than when soap is used.—Mechanical News.

From Tacoma, Washington, comes this:

The Convention of Representatives of the Farmers' Alliance and labor organizations, which began last Monday was the first gathering of the kind in this State. Previous to the meeting the impression prevailed that this movement meant the organization of a third political party here.

But such has not proved to be the case, the declared object of the convention being a closer union of the different industrial associations already in existence, for the purpose of aiding and assisting in the organization and protection of all producers, and for the establishment of produce exchanges, warehouses, flour mills and other co-operative enterprises.

The resolutions adopted favor free trade and free coinage, approve the Sub-Treasury scheme, and severely condemn Gov. Laing for vetoing the Anti-Pinkerton and Time-Clock bills.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

MARBLE CAKE—Dark part—Take the yolks of 7 eggs, beat stiff, then add 1 cupful of melted butter, 1 cupful of molasses, 2 cupfuls of brown sugar, 2 tablespoonfuls of cinnamon, 1 tablespoonful of clove, 1 tablespoonful of allspice, 1 nutmeg, 1 teaspoonful of black pepper, 1 teaspoonful of soda. White part—Seven eggs beaten stiff, 2 cupfuls of white sugar, 1 cupful of melted butter, 1 cupful of sweet milk, 1 teaspoonful of soda, 1 teaspoonful of cream tartar and 3 cupfuls of flour. This quantity will make two large cakes. It is a cake that keeps well.

HEARTS—Three eggs, 1 cupful of melted butter, 1 cupful of sugar, 1 teaspoonful of soda, 1 teaspoonful each of cinnamon, allspice and clove, 1 cupful of chopped raisins; mix with flour stiff enough to knead and roll. Roll as thin as for cookies. Cut in any or you like. Bake.

QUICK SPONGE CAKE—One cupful of sugar, 2 eggs, 1 cupful of sour cream, 1 teaspoonful of soda, 1 teaspoonful of salt, 1 nutmeg, 1 teaspoonful of raisins, seeded and chopped, 2 cupfuls of flour. This cake is very moist when fresh.

INDIAN PUDDING—Mix 4 heaping tablespoonfuls of Indian meal with 2 cup of molasses, 1 egg and a teaspoonful of salt. Pour over this 3 pints of boiling milk and stir well together. (I usually set the pudding pan on the stove, after putting in the milk, and stir it briskly till it boils, and the milk thickens; this will prevent its settling after it is in the oven.) Bake five hours. After the pudding has been in the oven an hour pour over it a cupful of sweet cream or milk. Serve with sweetened cream flavored with nutmeg. Very nice.

CORN CAKE—One cup of sugar, 2 eggs, 1 quart of sour milk, 3 of a cup of butter, 2 tablespoonfuls of soda, 1 teaspoonful of salt, 1 quart of Indian meal and one cup of flour. Bake in a quick oven. One half of this quantity is enough for a family of six.

Chapters are devoted to discussion of impurities and adulterations of grass seeds, rational seed mixing, mixtures versus pure sowings, manures for grass lands, irrigation, insect enemies and fungus diseases of grasses. The last chapter gives 24 different formulas for grass suitable for purposes and for a variety of soils in the State. This book will be sent free to every farmer in the State who applies for it. A limited number of copies will be available for distribution outside of the State, but for these the Station will make a charge of 10 cents per copy to cover cost of paper used. Address the N. C. It cost five cents to swear in a certain Grand Rapids factory, and the box which contains the fines and which is now being sent to the heathen. It is strange that it has not occurred to the home missionaries to devote the contents of the box to the work of converting the profane employees of the Grand Rapids factory, so there may be no use for such a receiptable hereafter.—(Norristown Herald.)
